At 2.25 Mr. Brown concluded, and his resolution went over without action.

The Scinate their resumed consideration of the Sherman funding bill.

Mr. Morgan opposed the bill. He said he was entirely satisfied of the ability of the Government to pay $50,000,000 of Windom continued bonds in eleven years without drawing one cent from the surplus revenues.

urplus revenues.
Upon the conclusion of Mr. Morgan's remarks, the runding bill was informally laid saide until thursday.
Messages from the President were received, trans-Thursday.

Messages from the President were received, transmitting for consideration of Congress communications from the Secretary of the Interior, as follows: Letter recommending a renewal of the appropriation of $19,000, baretofore made for defraying the expenses of the Board of Indian Commissioners. Iran of a bill to carry out the recommendations made by Secretary Kirkwood in his annual report in regard to the government of Indians on reservations, and for other purposes. Draft of a bill to create the office of medical inspector for the Indian service. Draft of a bill amendatory of the act of March (1898), for the sale of the Otox Indian reservation in Nebraska and Kansas; draft of a bill to provide for deficiencies in the appropriations for the Indian service; draft of a bill to provide for deficiencies in the appropriations for the Indian service; draft of a bill to accept and ratily the agreement with the Crow Indians for the sale of a portion of their reservation in Montana Territory required for the Northern Pacific Railroad, and to make the necessary appropriations to carry the same into effect.

The Senate (at 1250) went into executive session and, after a few minutes devoted to referring the nominations received, adjourned until Thursday.

House of Representatives,

House proceeded, as the regular business of craing hour, to the call of committees for rethe morning hour, to the call of committees for reports,
Mr. Haskell, from the Committee on Indian Afrairs, reported a bill for the sale of the land of the Miant Indians in Kansas. To the House calendar.
Mr. Shallenberger, from the Committee on Fublic Buildings and Grounds, reported a bill authorizing and directing the architect of the Capitol to make certain changes and repairs in the House wing. To the Committee of the Whole.
Mr. Haskell moved that all bills for Indian depredation claims that are before the Committee on Claims be referred to the Committee on Indian Afairs. He stated that the Committee on Claims was completely buried under work, having over 800 bills referred to it. The chairman of the latter committee being absent the matter went over without action.

ont action.

Mr. Stephens, from the Coinage Committee, made a report on the subject of metric coinages. Recommitted and ordered printed.

The House then resumed consideration of the report of the Committee on Rules, proposing an increase in the membership of certain committees, the pending question being on Mr. Orif's substitute for the appointment of a board to select committee.

Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, made the point of order that the substitute was not germane to the original proposition, because the substitute ap-plied to the next House and not to this; and be-cause it embraced matter not in the original propo-dtion.

The discussion of the point of order having pro-ceeded for about an hour (being participated in by seded for about an hour (being participated in by leasts. Robeson, Orth, Springer, and Holman), as interrupted by a question of order mised by it. Belford, that by rule 14 no member is permit-d to speak more than once on the same question util every member choosing to speak shall have poken. He said that the grattemen from New ersey and Kanasa (Messrs, Robeson and Haskell) Jersey and Kansas (Messers, Robeson and Haskell) had apaken half a dozen times on the subject, (laughter and applianse on the Democratic side), and he wanted to know whether the privileges of the House were concentrated in the hands of two or three members, or whether other gentlemen had a right to be heard on questions affecting the organization of the House.

The Speaker-The gentleman himself has not been seeking the floor to be heard on the point of order.

Mr. Belford—I have been seeking the floor for Mr. Belford—I have failed because I do not belong to the acard circle which assumes domination of the debates. [Renewed laughter and applause on to the sacred circle which assumes domination of the debates. [Renewed langiler and appiants on the Democratic side.] I am unterling but a common complaint when I say that the young members of the flome appear to have no right in it. I desire to discuss the whole question.

The Speaker—The pending question is the point of order on the substitute.

Mr. Belforel—That is what I want to speak about. I desire to discuss it as It was discussed yesterday by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Kelley), and as it was discussed to-day by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Kelley), and as it was discussed to-day by the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Kelley), and as it was discussed to-day by the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. Robeson)—that is, by embracing the entire question about the amendment of the rules.

The speaker—The Chair thinks that the point of order had better be disposed of first.

The discussion of the point of order was resumed and was further participated in by Mesars, Calkins, Hooker, Bay ne, Speaker, Burrows of Michigan, Milis, Scales, Hannsond of Georgia, and Fage. At last the discussion was brought to a close, and the Speaker proceeded to state his opinion on the point of order. The substitute, he said, proposed to amend the report made by the Committee on Rules, but it was in fact a substantive proposition for change the rule. It was not in any respect kindered to the enlarging of committees. Still on account of the peculiar relations of the Chair to the proposed amendment he would avail himself of his right to submit the point of order taken against the substitute was sustained—yeas, 163; may, 74. So the estabilitie was ruled out of order.

Mr. King, of Louisiana, officed an amendment relating to the Committee on the Improvement of the massing proporting appropriation bills. He spoke in support of the manufacent as bearing on the superprint of the new proposition of the superprint of this substitute is bearing on the suppropriation of the new proposition of the superprint of thits.

for the improvement of that river as are accorded to the Appropriation Committee in reporting general appropriation bills. He spoke in support of the amendment as bearing on the question of cheap transportation. After debate

Mr. With moved to amend the amendment so as to give the Committee on the Improvement of the Mississippi litiver jurisdiction also over the principal tributaries.

The matter then went over for the day, Mr. Robeson, of New Jersey, stailing that he would call the previous question to morrow.

Mr. Davis, of Hilmis, presented resolutions of the Chicago, Board of Trade relative to the transportation between the Mississippi and the lakes, Referred.

Archibald Forbes.

The lecture to be delivered by Mr. Forbes tomorrow evening will undoubtedly be the literary treat of the season, and, judging from the number of tickets already sold, he will have a large and intelligent audience. Too much cannot be said in praise of Mr. Forbes as a lecturer or of this lecture which he is to deliver here. The following from the Boston Times gives a good idea of his style of lecturing: "His descriptions were yivid, his comparisons were surprisingly apt, and a delicious humor pervaded the whole, which sent ripple after ripple of mirth and kept the perceptive finculties of the audience in the keenest exercise. The lecture hast night on 'Royal People I Have Met' was a repetition of the success of the previous evening, and his short, pithy, pungent sentences will long be stored in memory's nook."

LOCAL MENTION.

The Importers' Tea Company, of New York, have opened a branch store in this city. Their teas are put up in paper caus: each can weights (including contents) 1½ pounds, and is sold, can and contents, at the uniform price of $1 to one and all. The lea itself is of excellent quality and well worth the money. The coffice is put up in paper cans, each can weighing (including contents) 3½ pounds, and sold, can and contents, at same price as the lea—viz, $1 per can. The coffice is hard to beat, gives satisfaction wherever used, and is worth a dollar of anybody's money. Every can contains a spivenir of from 10 cents to $50 cash, or gold or silver watches or jewelry, and also genuino diamond jewelry (no bianis), the tea and coffee being worth at a fair retail price more than that asked, without any regard to the souvenir. This company takes this method to advertise their goods, and after March 15 these teas and coffees will be sold wholly on their merits by their agent at the same price, but without the souvenir.
